

CHING JO, SING LEE

Two Chinamen Who Are Held in the County Jail

CLAIM THEY ARE CITIZENS

Judge Severeus Will Hear Their Case
This Morning—How They Work on the Stone Pile.

Ching Jo and Sing Lee will be taken into the United States court this morning for hearing on a writ of habeas corpus. They are two Chinamen who are serving a sentence of two days at hard labor in the county jail upon a conviction of unlawfully residing in the United States under the Garry act of 1922. They were arrested at Pokosky, and upon examination before Commissioner Call of that place, were sentenced to the twenty days at hard labor as provided by law and to be deported to their native country. Their sentence will expire February 27, but they insist they are "Mexican men," saying they have been residents of northern Michigan for the last ten years. D. E. Corbett has been retained as attorney in the case and by the aid of a local interpreter, has conferred with them on the subject of their citizenship. One of them claims to have a laundry at Iron Mountain and that he can prove his citizenship. They object to being returned to China without a further hearing in the courts, and Judge Severeus has granted their application.

Since their arrival here they have been at work on the stone pile. When first taken to the pile they selected the featherweight bannermen, and their blows have been given with a "no-much-see-like" feeling. They wear gloves and work simply to kill time. Whenever an extraordinarily large stone is given to them they shake their heads and look to Finnerman, called "brother," who is kind and afraid of being hit in the eye with fragments of stone. They turn their heads and shut their eyes at every blow to avoid any possibility of being injured. When asked by their associate prisoners how they liked the work they both replied: "No goodies, no goodies." The other prisoners watch them with much interest, and they furnish a great deal of amusement for them. They frequently inquire of the jail attaché when they will go to "Tina" and occasionally call for "Lion" or "Joe" when Sheriff Lakowicz serves refreshments, but they have been kept on the regular jail diet. Knives, forks and spoons are discarded by them, and in the absence of chop sticks their fingers are substituted while taking their meals. They dress in American clothing and can talk a little English, but no intelligible conversation can be carried on with them in that language.

City News in Brief

Kate Douglas Wiggin, the author and reader who gives an entertainment at Park congregational church, March 1, will be entertained while in the city by Mrs. Dell Parker of Jefferson avenue. Mrs. Parker enjoyed a pleasant acquaintance with Mrs. Wiggin at Santa Barbara when spending the winter in California a year or two ago.

Personal Items

Maj. W. F. Dickinson, Capt. N. H. Walbridge and Henry Goebel, with their wives, were in Hastings yesterday attending the reunion of Company F, Eighth Michigan Infantry.

Warren Weatherly yesterday returned from New Orleans, after two weeks' absence. He intended to be gone a month, but became homesick for Grand Rapids.

Public Works Superintendent James N. Davis is enjoying life at Daytona, Fla., and has met several Grand Rapids people in that vicinity.

The Rev. L. M. Bocher and wife and Mrs. Richards, Mr. Bocher's mother, left on a trip to Washington and back yesterday.

Lieut. Samuel Dunning, U. S. A., instructor of tactics at West Point, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Charles M. Wilson.

Mrs. Samuel Miller gave a reception to her friends at her home, No. 40 West Bridge street.

News of the Churches

The fifty women of the South congregational church who gave the "Temple of Faith" so successfully, have received a petition with over 100 signatures, asking a repetition this evening. The request will be granted, and the proceeds will go to the organ fund. Some new features will be added, including Mrs. Farrington, Julia A. Moore, a Quakeress, and some martial music.

The Rev. J. Brewster Hubbs of Grace church, addressed a small audience last night in St. Mark's chapel, on the subject of personal religion. He advocated prayer and devotion as shown by the disciples. Through some misunderstanding Mr. Hubbs did not speak on the "Life of George Washington," as was announced a few days ago.

The Christian workers of Westminster Presbyterian church will give a supper in the church parlors this evening for the benefit of the church.

An unique entertainment named "A Jolly Earthquake" will be given in the parlors of the Baptist church this evening at 8 o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. Furnishing Committee. The Young Men's Christian association furnishing committee, composed of five members of the association and five members of the ladies' auxiliary, held a meeting in the new building yesterday afternoon to compare notes as to the progress of their winter clothing drive.

Furniture dealers and manufacturers in the interest of furnishing certain rooms in the building. Each member reported a kind and cordial reception from each firm visited, and that all seemed anxious to give the best pieces in their lines.

Secretary Ward says that judging from present indications through the generosity of the furniture dealers of the city, the rooms in the new building will be the most elaborately furnished of any in the country.

May Build It Higher

The Young Men's Temple company will survey the site for the temple today and preparations for the erection of the building will go steadily on until time to begin work. Applications for office rooms are being made in such large numbers that the company is seriously considering the feasibility of adding another story, making an eight-story building. The directors will decide upon this proposition definitely within a few days after the survey is completed.

Contagious Diseases

Charles Denison, No. 301 Canal street, measles; William Malin and three others, No. 37 North avenue, measles; Arthur Hill, No. 232 Tenth avenue, measles; H. Bogardus, No. 148 Central avenue, typhoid fever; Eddie Cary, No. 156 North avenue, measles; John Bos, No. 285 Muskegon street, scarlet fever.

Will Open Its Home

Ward, city; H. P. Hansen, city; S. S. Shoat, city; L. N. Renwick, city; H. A. Knott, city; D. King, Muskegon; A. M. Platt, city.

Will Have a Piano

At the regular meeting of the Women's auxiliary yesterday evening the program for their entertainment in Hartman's hall Thursday evening, March 23, was completed. The proceeds of this entertainment will be devoted to a fund for purchasing a piano for the Y. M. C. A. Tickets have been printed and are on sale in Secretary Ward's office. Those who will take part in the program are the Weber quartet, Prof. R. A. Weinstein, Herman Pupke, Capt. J. C. Boone with a military drill, A. E. Garland with a class in gymnastics and stunts, Mrs. Frank M. Davis and Miss Maud Hughes.

Fitzgerald Recaptured

Yesterday morning, when Ed Fitzgerald was released from jail after having completed a ninety-day sentence for larceny, he was rearrested by Deputy Powers before he reached the exterior steps of the building on a charge of grand larceny. The last complaint was made by John Donaher, who charges him with having stolen a gold watch, chain, charm and watch case, valued at $37, on November 10 last. Ed was again locked up to await examination.

Now Ask a Divorce

H. A. Hyvonen, an attorney for Mrs. Mary Hanshaw, will file a bill of complaint with the clerk of the circuit court this morning asking for a divorce from his client from her husband, William Hanshaw, on the grounds of cruelty and desertion. The couple were married March 23, 1917, and have six living children. Hanshaw is now under arrest for surety of the peace on complaint of his wife.

Will Take Part Tonight

Mrs. Laura E. Haviland of Chicago, who for many years has been an earnest temperance worker, is to take the part of Quakeress in "The Temple of Faith," which is to be given at the South congregational church this evening. Mrs. Haviland is now 84 years old and has many friends in this city who will no doubt appreciate the opportunity to hear this eloquent woman.

Thrown Into the Snow

An exciting runaway occurred on South Waterloo street yesterday afternoon at 4:30. A horse driven by Mrs. Henry of South Division street became frightened and collided with a rig driven by Lou Anderson, a Waterloo street resident, throwing the occupants of both rigs into the snow. They were not seriously injured, but the cutters were damaged about $25.

South W. C. T. U. Reception

The ladies of the South W. C. T. U. gave a Martha Washington reception yesterday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. W. E. Robinson, No. 471 Madison avenue. Coffee and waters were served to over 100 guests by the prettily-attired women. Eleven unions were represented and all reported a very enjoyable afternoon.

Soldiers Remained Quiet

Nothing was doing at the military armory yesterday. Several of the citizen soldiers were found at each polishing up accoutrements, reading, smoking and lounging. There were none of the usual observances of the day, even in the way of a drill. Several members of other companies attended the Custer Guards party in the evening.

What Ice Will Cost

The prices of ice will be maintained by the dealers the coming season as follows: For private families, $1.50 per month for twenty pounds every other day, 25 cents extra for carrying and 75 cents extra for putting in box. For 1,000 to 1,500 pounds per month, 25 cents per cwt. For 4,000 pounds and over, 15 cents per cwt.

More of Hazel Slaughter

Hazel Slaughter, the colored woman who was in police court some time ago on a charge of larceny from the prison, was again brought to the notice of the police department last night. A young man reported at headquarters that Hazel had touched him for his pocket-book, containing $20 in cash, a few nights since while they were in an ice-drinking stall in an Ellis street saloon. After the course of procedure had been explained by the officers the young man refused to swear out a warrant for her arrest as he rather lost the $20 than have his name published in connection with the matter and circumstances under which the theft was committed. His name is withheld by the officers.

THEY ARE IN IT

All the Rooms in the New High School Occupied.

The high school is under its own vine and fig tree. The teachers who have worked under trying conditions for the past few months are happy. The last week connected with transferring from the old building to the new was accomplished yesterday while school was not in session. Superintendent of Buildings Barnard and Superintendent of Janitors Paul, with a corps of janitors, worked vigorously all day to have the work completed and the seats and desks all in place. All the seats in Mrs. Milner's room had to be moved yesterday and the rapidly with which the men worked showed them to be experts at that kind of work. At 6 o'clock the job was completed and today work will be taken up in the rooms of the new building. The upper rooms of the new building have been occupied for some time, but the lowest floor was not completed so that it could be used sooner.

HE JOSTLED THEM

Leonard Vis and Ed Wilmarth Assault a Pedestrian.

Ed Wilmarth and Leonard Vis were out celebrating Washington's birthday last night, and assaulted W. A. Cowles on Watson street. They were strangers to Cowles, and thinking their undue familiarity with him was an indication of an attempted highway robbery, called for help. Patrolman Mallory was soon on the scene, but Wilmarth escaped. Vis was arrested and told the officer that Cowles jostled against them in such a manner as to arouse their indignation, and they were only trying to punish him for it. The boys are well known, and the officers do not believe they intended to hold up Cowles. Vis was arrested on a charge of being drunk and locked up at the station. It is possible that a warrant charging assault and battery will be issued for both Vis and Wilmarth today.

HELP AT LAST

Thirty Weeks Sick, the Last Twenty Weeks Confined to Bed.

My wife has been sick about thirty weeks, and the last twenty weeks confined to bed, had five doctors, but no benefit; got worse all the time and the doctors said no one could help her; she got weaker and weaker all the time and had dreadful pains and could not stand alone, when, in company with my wife's brother, I called on Dr. S. Clay Todd, 16 North Division street, room 4, and gave him an account of her case. He prepared some medicines, and I began giving them to her. From the start the medicines helped her as Dr. Todd said they would, and she gradually improved and today, after about four weeks using Dr. S. Clay Todd's medicines, she is able to walk ten feet without assistance.

JACOB ZUIDERFELD.

829 Logan street, Grand Rapids, Mich.
January 31, 1923.

NOTE—This patient suffered, gradually recovering her health, has attracted more attention than any case of sickness in Grand Rapids for many years. Her physicians failed utterly to give any relief until she was treated by Dr. S. Clay Todd; then she gradually got better.
